OUTDOOR EASTER SUNRISE SERVICE

Part of the crowd that climbed Mount Tolsme early Sunday morning to participate in the Easter Sunrise Service. Thousands stood on the rocky ledges, among the trails or reached seated in their motor cars with the music and other parts of the service brought to them by a network of loud speakers scattered over the mountain top.

Mountain Top Service Crowds Greet Easter

Thousands Climb Mount Tolsme to Take Part in Sunrise Worship; Ex-Premier Reads Resurrection Story, Dr. Clem Davies Preaches

Upwards of 3,000 men, women and children of all ages greeted Easter Sunday at the outdoor sunrise service on top of Mount Tolsme.

Police estimated there were 1,000 cars parked two and three deep on the roadway to the top of the mountain, or along Mount Tolsme Road by the University School, where a long string of special street cars delivered their passengers.

Not only by the main road did those who came their way to the mountain top, but by paths on all sides of the mountain.

It was fresh at the top of the mountain, but the early morning clouds parted to let the sun shine through on the crowd and also to emphasize the panorama of straits, islands, mountains and countryside to be seen from the top.

A system of loud-speakers running from the outdoor pulpit covered the mountain, bringing the service to those who sat in their cars. The choir, directed by the Rev. Dr. Clem Davies, sang hymns and recited the resurrection story.

Groups of girl users, attractive in their blue uniforms with white insignia, distributed programmes to the crowd.

Victoria, British Columbia, and the surrounding area were filled with people who came to the outdoor sunrise service on top of Mount Tolsme.

Dr. Clem Davies, who originated the Easter sunrise service here, conducted the outdoor pulpit, opening the service at 7:30 o'clock. He wore his doctor's gown, and purple stole.

Dr. Davies took as his sermon text the words, "If a man die shall he live again?"

He said, "Life is the most universal thing in death, but no man can logically reason himself away from belief in immortality." Dr. Davies said, "Immortality is rooted in the very fabric of the soul. The mind of man has an eternity for its future. Human instinct is for immortality."

Aid Is Sent To Formosa Where 250,000 Are Left Homeless By Temblors

Latest Reports Place Deaths on Japanese Island Off Coast of China at 3,045, With Thousands Injured

Scenes of Misery Are Described

Tokio, April 22.—The Bunge (Japanese news agency) at 3:15 a.m. today officially announced here that 3,045 persons had been killed in the earthquakes on the island of Formosa.

Associated Press
Taihoku, Formosa, April 22.—The Japanese government today sent fifty relief parties with physicians, water and food to aid the terror-stricken survivors of earthquakes which on Saturday and Sunday devastated 2,000 square miles of this "island beautiful."

The scorching, tropical sun beat down pitilessly all day yesterday on the misery-stricken survivors, inflicting new sufferings as scarcity of water assumed grave proportions. Practically all pipelines and water reservoirs had been wrecked by the earth shocks.

CARRIER PIGEONS USED
Paroled thousands stumbled among the ruins of their homes in the intense heat, seeking the precious fluid. Relief was expected hourly, however, as carrier pigeons—the only means of communication left—carried word to the mainland.

Taihoku, capital of Formosa, and Tainan, the old capital, were among the European residents here, were seriously damaged. Early estimates of property damage range from $5,000,000 to twice that amount.

Fire broke out Monday in the ruins of several northern Formosa communities, adding to the horrors of death and destruction caused by Sunday's violent quakes.

MANY WOUNDED
Casualty reports brought the number of injured to approximately 12,000. Streams of injured continued to struggle in the emergency hospital.

Two terrible earth shocks struck the populated sections of this Japanese island possession at dawn, sending hundreds of flimsy dwellings crumbling about their sleeping inhabitants. In many villages the roofs and walls of the buildings were blown away.

As army battalions stationed at Taihoku, in the centre of the ravaged area, sent out fifty relief parties to set up field dressing stations. Government-General Kamei Hideo, who announced the disaster, said that the victims of one of the worst catastrophes in modern Oriental history.

It was understood Emperor Hirohito also was to make a donation from the privy purse.

Recurring after-shocks, combined with the loss of food and the wailing of the injured and homeless, made the hours after the two main quakes a period of continual terror.

Ottawa, April 22.—Inspector Arthur Patteson, forty-eight, liaison officer of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, died at his home here yesterday following a heart attack. He was also editor of the R.C.M.P. Quarterly, official publication of the force.

Inspector Patteson, enlisted in the old Royal Northwest Mounted Police in 1914, and rendered long service in western Canada. He was stationed at Edmonton when he was appointed as liaison officer, and came to Ottawa as assistant to the late Col. C. F. Hamilton, then director of intelligence and liaison officer. GREAT THROG AT ST. PETER'S

Benediction: Seen By More Than 100,000 People

Vatican City, April 22.—The Roman Catholic world made great St. Peter's Basilica the focal point of all symbolic religious interest yesterday as Pope Pius appeared before his Roman flock to impart a solemn Easter Sunday benediction.

The Pope was clearly seen by more than 100,000 persons who jammed St. Peter's Piazza to receive the benediction and to hear the proclamation of the papal encyclical by Cardinal Dean Pignatelli de Belmonte. Thirteen cardinals were present, and among the audience was Prince of Torosio, formerly the Italian Minister of Spain.

ELABORATE CEREMONY
 Previously the inside of the great basilica was the scene of an elaborate church ceremony. Noble and Swiss Guards and papal gendarmes armed with sabres and rifles and wearing the plumed, shako and patent boots of a bygone military era, shepherded the eager crowds who pressed into the gigantic cathedral in the hope of a glimpse of the Pontiff.

After a few hours of feasting in commemoration of the resurrection, many thousands of Romans again returned to St. Peter's yesterday afternoon to witness the procession of the Three Marys. This procession symbolized the visit of the Virgin Mary, Mary Magdalene, and Mary the mother of James to Christ's tomb after the resurrection.

SILVER TRUMPETS
 Yesterday morning Easter ceremonies at St. Peter's began when six silver trumpets sounded by buglers in a high balcony announced the Pope.

The Pope was borne by attendants dressed in flaming red tailcoats and knee breeches. His portable throne was supported by a broad-based altar and he sat on a gilded throne by other attendants.

For more than an hour the thousands of persons in the basilica remained silent and meticulously followed the sacred ceremony of the Easter mass.

This silence was interrupted finally by a fresh peal from the six silver trumpets—signal of the Pontiff's departure from the cathedral. Again crowds strained toward the central aisle and shouted "Viva il Papa" as his majesty was borne away.

Parrot Cries For Venizelos; Executed

Athens, April 22.—Guests at a popular Greek restaurant thought to-day another revolution had broken out when they heard a voice shout, "Cheer for Venizelos." Down with his political opponents!

An investigation disclosed the cries came from a parrot—trained before former Premier Eleftherios Venizelos fell from grace as a result of his unsuccessful revolt.

The bird was condemned to be executed, without trial.

Death Sentences For Greek Rebels

Caserta, April 22.—Gen. George Karamanlis, commander of rebel forces in Macedonia, during the recent uprising, and nine other military and civilian leaders of the movement have been sentenced to death in absentia by a court martial here. They are refugees in Bulgaria.

German Pastors Lose Pulpits

Nazi Church Leaders Increase Measures Against Objectors

Berlin, April 22.—Provincial authorities of the Nazi German Protestant Church clamped down during Passion Week on recalcitrant pastors, it was disclosed to-day.

They gave effect to Reichsbishop Ludwig Müller's Easter message to his clergy: "For me, Easter means a death sentence on all small heresies dividing the church."

Now far the misap of politics with religion has gone was illustrated in the case of Pastor Ulrich Bunsel of Breslau, who has been forbidden his pulpit and expelled from the city by police on a charge of "making subversive utterances," although Bunsel was a Hitlerite.

He was noted for his strong opposition to Communism and Bolshevism and once was thanked by Hitler himself for his eloquent defence of Nazism. His "subversive" consisted in his objections to procedures adopted by Hitler in his drive to consolidate the church for the Nazis.

SPRING WHEAT OUTLOOK GOOD

Supply, in Contrast to Winter Section, Should Suffice For United States

Washington, April 22.—If conditions in the spring wheat belt continue favorable, the United States Agriculture Department said Saturday, the United States will have a total 1935 wheat crop ample to take care of domestic needs.

Moisture in the spring wheat area was reported to have averaged "better than normal" in contrast to the dry, winnowed Kansas winter wheat section.

WINTER WHEAT LOSSES
 Winter wheat acreage abandonment, the department said, is more extensive this year than usual, but still less than last year. In the worst sections, complete loss of acreage was reported, and abandonment of about 20 per cent of the entire winter wheat acreage was indicated by the April 1 condition report.

TOLL OF HOUSE FIRE IS NINE

Eight Members of Family and Maid Perish in Quebec

St. Emile de Lotbinière, Que., April 22.—Discovery of the body of a maid in the ruins of a small summer cottage here yesterday brought to nine the death toll from fire that almost wiped out the family of Alphonse Renaud, Quebec accountant.

While in Quebec word was taken to Mrs. Renaud that her husband and seven of their eight children had been burned to death in the fire which broke out early Saturday morning.

Neighbors and friends here walked sorrowfully past the charred remains which were laid in the basement of the St. Emile Parish Church.

Victims in the blaze, which occurred when one of the two maids lit a stove, were:

Alphonse Renaud, thirty-six; Andre Renaud, twelve; Jacqueline Renaud, eleven; Henri Paul Renaud, ten; Orlene Renaud, eight; Rogers Renaud, seven; Jean Marie Renaud, six; Marc Antoine Renaud, five; and Agnes Blouin, sixteen.

CHIEF SCOUT IS IN CALGARY

Calgary, April 22.—If all persons underwent an operation at seventy-seven, as he did, they would probably benefit by it, Baron Baden-Powell, founder and chief scout of boy scout organizations throughout the world, said yesterday evening when he arrived in Calgary.

The hero of Mafeking, looking hale and hearty despite a recent illness and a heavy programme of activities on his tour which started last October, was met by a large crowd, although no official reception had been planned.

The Chief Scout was accompanied by Lady Baden-Powell, chief guide, and their two daughters.

Danube Conference Set For June Date

Rome, April 22.—A government spokesman announced to-day the Danubian conference originally scheduled for the latter part of May has been postponed until June.

The most likely date, the spokesman said, is June 3. The postponement was decided on since the League of Nations Council is to meet the end of next month.

LEADERS AT STRESA CONFERENCE

Great Britain, France and Italy pledged themselves to unite in opposing "by all practical means the repudiation of any treaties which may endanger the peace of Europe" when Premier MacDonald of Britain, left; Premier Mussolini of Italy, center, and Premier Briand of France, right, met recently at Stresa, Italy. Their action, directed against Germany's declaration that the world no longer abide by the armament limitations of the Versailles Treaty, was followed by a formal protest in the League of Nations against the Nazi move. The above picture came part of the way by radio.

Nanking, China, April 22.—An estimated 12,000,000 persons are suffering from drought-induced famine conditions in eight provinces of China and hundreds of thousands have been reduced to eating the bark of trees, roots and even clay, relief workers disclosed to-day.

One investigator found a father who had sold his eighteen-year-old son for the equivalent of about 25 cents, and another case where a husband had sold his wife for $25 in China.

China's capital momentarily has lost interest in national politics in the face of an urgent social problem created by the influx of thousands of refugees from famine-stricken areas. Relief workers here estimated 20,000 destitute persons have thrown themselves on the charity of this city alone.

REDS CAUSED BUT
 Hunan, Anhwei and Hupoh provinces are the most acute sufferers, especially Hunan. Last summer's scorching drought is the basic cause of the suffering, but recent widespread Communism pillaging in the war-torn flight before Chiang Kai-shek's armies has increased the toll.

Conditions in the famine area were vividly described by a representative of the Interprovincial Drought Relief Association, who visited the Liching district, thirty miles southwest of Nanking.

"In one place I found a group of famine sufferers camped in a grove of about 100 elm trees. They had stripped the bark clean from all the trees and had used it for food," he said.

"In other districts, the hunger-crazed peasant families were mixing bran and water with earth and eating it for what little nourishment it might contain."

MONTREAL MAN SLAIN AT HOME

Montreal, April 22.—A deep gash on the back of the head, the bloodstained body of Joseph Blais, sixty-three, Canadian Pacific Railway boiler-maker, was found sprawled on the back stairs of his home on DeLozier Avenue yesterday by his daughter, Yvette.

Paul Cook, twenty-four, a biscuit salesman boarding at the Blais home, was taken into custody by police and held as a material witness for the coroner's inquest Tuesday.

According to Dr. Rosario Fontaine, Quebec medico-legal expert, Blais had been killed approximately twelve hours before the body was found shortly before noon yesterday. A bloodstained hammer was discovered by detectives in a kitchen pantry. The hammer had been partly washed, Dr. Fontaine said. A trail of blood led from the kitchen door to the top of the stairs.

KIPLING MAY BE GIVEN TITLE

London, April 22.—To Rudyard Kipling, often referred as "the forgotten man of English letters," may come at last some measure of official homage which his legion of admirers has thought is long overdue.

Now approaching his seventieth birthday, the writer is being mentioned as an almost certain recipient of garlands from the King's Silver Jubilee honors list.

Strong representations, it is understood, have been made in behalf of the "soldier poet" who was the first Englishman to receive the Nobel Prize for Poetry almost thirty years ago.

Legislature Votes For Renewal of Agreement With R.C.M.P.

Edmonton, April 22.—Renewal of the contract with the Royal Canadian Mounted Police to police Alberta apart from the cities and towns for a period of five years was adopted by the Legislature on Saturday, the vote was 41 to 2.

Under the proposed agreement, the province will pay the Dominion $250,000 this year and $300,000 next year, while the remaining three years will be open to negotiation as to the sum to be paid.

Several government members and Labor representatives opposed renewal of the contract.

"I am opposed to the renewal of this agreement in any shape or form," declared B. Macdonald, U.P.A. Stony Plain. He referred to several complaints that had been made against the R.C.M.P. activities in Alberta.

Following the agreement was handed over to the R.C.M.P. three years ago when the provincial force was disbanded. There are 250 R.C.M.P. officers and men in the province.

BRAZIL COTTON EXPORTS GROW

London, April 22.—Competition from other cotton-growing regions, notably South America, is threatening the position of the United States in the world market.

For nearly 100 years the United States has dominated the world of cotton, but the recent development of cotton growing in new countries, coupled with government restrictions on the industry in the United States, has fostered intense interest among British spinners in the new sources of supply.

Developments of importance have been taking place in Brazil. Skilled labor has been introduced and the most up-to-date gins have been installed. Ginning is well established, as Brazilian labor costs are lower than the labor costs in the United States, and Brazilian cotton can be sold profitably at a price below the normal United States price.

Brazil is one of the few countries with which Great Britain has a favorable balance of trade. There is every indication for Great Britain to take increased supplies of Brazilian cotton, and it is plain the smallness of the supply will be long continued as an obstacle to British purchases on a really extensive scale.

R. C. BOSANQUET DIES IN ENGLAND

Newcastle, Eng., April 22.—Robert Carr Bosanquet, internationally known for his researches in Romano-British archaeology, died here to-day. He was sixty-three years old.

Robert Carr Bosanquet was a member of the royal commission on ancient monuments in Wales and Monmouthshire, a vice-president of the Roman Society and a member of the advisory board on ancient monuments in England. He was the author of several works on Romano-British archaeological subjects.

DUBLIN LIKE ARMED CAMP

Forces Succeed in Keeping Peace at Easter Week-end

Dublin, April 22.—Dublin resembled an armed camp over the Easter week-end, for the two rival armies, the Irish Republican army and the Free State forces were billeted around the capital every day as the celebration in honor of those who lost their lives in the 1916 uprising. The apprehensions of a clash, however, proved unfounded and the day passed without incident.

The only stir was when Michael Twomey, chief of staff of the I.R.A., who has been "on the run" from the Free State police since the recent round-up of I.R.A. leaders, made a brief and dramatic appearance in public. He delivered an oration at the graveside of Republicans in Glasnevin Cemetery, closely protected by a body guard. He made his getaway without interference.

In his speech at the unveiling of the statue of Cuchulain, ancient hero, President Eamon de Valera said the time was not yet ripe for a united republic of Ireland.

Standing bareheaded in a driving rain, massed thousands listened in stony silence to de Valera's declaration "the time has not yet come for proclamation of a republic."

"I want an early republic," he said, "but the time to raise the proud monument of the work here begun has not yet come."

May Negotiate Trade Agreement

Calgary, April 22.—A new trade agreement between Canada and New Zealand may be negotiated in London, Prime Minister O. W. Forbes of New Zealand yesterday in an interview when he arrived in Calgary on his way to London to attend the King's Silver Jubilee celebrations.

Premier Forbes, who is accompanied by H. I. Ford, New Zealand government economist, will make a twenty-four-hour stop in Ottawa, but no attempt will be made there to open negotiations for an agreement.

Mr. Forbes declared progress was being made in opening up trade relations with the United States. J. W. Collins, New Zealand trade commissioner in Canada, who accompanied the party from New Zealand, left the group at Vancouver to visit western United States cities in connection with trade affairs.

New Zealand had set up a reserve bank, somewhat similar to the Bank of Canada, Mr. Forbes said, and the advantages were noticeable, particularly in the country's credit arrangements beyond its own boundaries. Many advantages had followed creation of the bank, he said.

Canadian Press from Ottawa. London, April 22.—Germany will probably refuse to attend the Rome conference which will discuss Danubian problems, and particularly the question of guarantees of Austrian independence, the Berlin correspondent of The London Daily Mail telegraphed to-day.

Norman Thomas Heard In Toronto

Sir S. Cripps of Britain Also Addresses Ontario C.C.F.

Canadian Press. Toronto, April 22.—For the first time in Toronto's history, possibly of Canada's, a member of the British House of Commons, one from the Dominion House and a former candidate for the Presidency of the United States, have appeared on the same platform here espousing the cause of socialism.

Clustering a day-long convention of the Ontario section of the co-operative Commonwealth Federation, Sir Stafford Cripps, chairman of the Socialist League of Great Britain, William Irvine, member of the House of Commons for Walsworth, Alta., and Norman Thomas of New York, president of the Socialist League of America and former candidate for the presidency of the republic, addressed a meeting here Saturday evening.

Patching the capitalist system would not be satisfactory, said Mr. Irvine.

Hope of the world was socialism, "not Fascist demagoguery, or that impossible thing reformed capitalism," said Mr. Thomas.

Mr. Irvine thought the presence of a Socialist from Britain and one from the United States gave the gathering the status of an international conference, based on human interests.

Mence of war in Europe was held out by Sir Stafford Cripps, who told of fast accumulating supplies of armaments and remarked: "We are failing to realize what a ready help to declining capitalism the production of armaments could be."

PARLIAMENT'S VACATION

PARLIAMENT HAS JUST BEGUN A five-weeks' vacation which is wholly unnecessary and gravely detrimental to the public interest. The adjournment, in fact, reflects in the government to complete a loss of touch with public sentiment, no vague appreciation of the country's many imperative requirements, as to constitute an all-time record in Canada. With the unemployment problem still very formidable, with the relief camp situation daily becoming more menacing, with the needs of industry demanding definite decision and policy, this certainly is not the time for Parliament to quit work for a prolonged period.

The adjournment means that the general election will not be held until the late summer or early fall, and this in turn means that business will be hampered by uncertainty and will be unable to play its part in accelerating Canada's economic recovery. There will be no acceptance throughout the country of the excuse that the five weeks' break is necessitated by the absence of Mr. Bennett in England for the celebration of the King's accession anniversary, since there was no adjournment during the time he was confined to bed by illness. The real reason, of course, is the political expediency of a moribund administration, the determination to hold on to office to the last moment of its five-year term in the hope that somehow, somewhere, something will turn up to improve a threatening prospect—something which will turn the tide of adverse sentiment reflected in numerous by-elections and provincial party turnovers.

ANOTHER "BIG-TIME" SPORT

RECENT DEVELOPMENTS IN VIC- toria gave us an added interest in an article in The Nation on "The Build-up of Basketball." From this we have learned that basketball was invented in 1891 by Dr. James A. Naismith, a Y.M.C.A. man attached to the College of Springfield, Massachusetts. Although the game seemingly is simplicity itself, with two hoops hanging at each end of the court, into which the players endeavor to toss the ball, it is charged with being during its short life responsible "for as many brawls, lost tempers, broken relations, fights, arguments and disturbances as any other sport." This has led some persons to question whether Dr. Naismith did not make a mistake in inventing basketball. But he gives no indication of repentance actually; he boasts that his game is now being played in countries as remote as Latvia, Turkey, Arabia, Madagascar, Uruguay, Bulgaria and Korea.

More interesting even than the world-wide spread of the game is the sudden spurt in its popularity on this continent. After the war it developed in the colleges as a winter rival to football, with crowds as large as 15,000 attending. Mr. Ned Irish, a sports writer, last winter thought he saw promotion possibilities in the game, gave up his sports writing and sold his idea to the Madison Square Garden directors in New York. As a result of his interest basketball has been given another lift up the ladder of big-time sport, and has been established in that New York sports arena as a public attraction, rivaling ice hockey and prize fights. As to how the business managers of the Gardens take to this may be judged from the fact that five evening double-headers drew 64,000 spectators, an average of 13,000 an evening, nearly a "sell out" for the Gardens; a season of eight games attracted 100,000 paid admissions and, let it be added, smiles to the face of the president of the Garden Corporation.

The complaint is now being made that the public is taking its basketball too seriously. An authoritative sports writer in The New York Herald-Tribune informs us even the college crowds are behaving at basketball games "in a manner that would bring blushes to the cheeks of the bleacher-seat rooters in a professional baseball park," that they "jeer and boo every decision of the officials that goes against their team," that "they scream derision at adversaries who miss easy shots, howl like sandlot baseball zealots trying to rattle an opposing pitcher." That helps to explain some of the violent outbursts, we thought almost abnormal, during moments of intense feeling on our Victoria basketball floors within recent weeks. It is damning on us that such manifestations of super-enthusiasm are to be accepted as just a normal part of the game.

But, when basketball becomes really rough it is something more than all that. As an example of what it can be, there are the descriptions of the recent game for the Eastern League leadership between Penn and Columbia University, the president of the latter institution being Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, the international peace leader and believer in sport as promoting good fellowship. We read that it looked as though the players in this basketball game were playing rugby football most of the time, in spite of the fact that basketball is a "no contact" game. However, we read on: "Eventually players' tempers got out of control, fists began to fly, and the game developed into a brawl. The spectators, who had been howling incessantly and growing more excited over the spectacle, swarmed on the floor and joined the melee." It was explained that, unfortunately, Dr. Butler could not be present at this game; he was addressing some kind of a peace conference in London.

SAFETY FOR ADMIRALS

A CABLEGRAM FROM GERMANY RE- cently contained a little item which provokes interesting speculation as to the future happiness of naval admirals.

This item had to do with trials of a new "mystery ship"—just completed for the German navy. It is described as a "non-fighting flagship"; a 2,200-ton vessel of the yacht type, intended for use of a fleet commander in battle.

And this leads one to remember that the admiral does not have as safe a life, in modern warfare, as the general of an army. The general occupies comfortable headquarters many miles from the front. Unless a stray airplane wanders his way, he is as safe as he would be at home.

But the admiral is out on the firing line with everybody else, when the fleets meet. If his ship is sunk, he goes down along with the stokers and gun-layers.

Have the Germans, at last, found a way of changing this? If this new non-fighting flagship can give the admiral a general's safety in battle, future naval wars may be a lot different from those of the past.

A NOVEL AFRICAN LURE

TWO FRENCH EXPLORERS HAVE just set off on a hike through the desolate Hoggar mountains of Africa in a hopeful effort to discover the fabulous beautiful blond sirens of the Gara Ti-Djanoun peak.

These lovely ladies, according to legend, live in fancy gardens high up in some lonely cleft of these very remote mountains, and are so extremely charming that no man who sees them ever returns.

The Frenchmen aim to find out all about them, to conduct a bit of archaeological research on the side, and—if the legend turns out to be a dud—to do a little hunting.

Now all this is a sample of the kind of thing that used to make exploration worth while—not because these sirens are supposed to be so excessively beautiful, but because the legend itself is fanciful and improbable, so that it gives the explorers a regular story book excuse for making their trip.

The world is shy on legends these days. When such a man as Byrd or Wilkins goes down to Antarctica, for instance, the dumbest school boy knows perfectly well what he is going to see—ice, and lots of it, a few penguins, and possibly some particular mass of frozen rock and snow that no one ever saw before.

There are no legends about the place. We know too much. The explorer may add to our knowledge of polar air currents and geology, but he will not come back talking of marvels and unearthly portents. Such things have passed forever beyond the human horizon.

It was not always thus. A few centuries ago the explorer did not merely set out to see undiscovered land; he figured he had a chance to stumble into the fabulous courts of Prester John, or bag a few unicorns, or find the golden city of Manoa, or see those strange folk whose heads are in the middle of their chests.

The stubbiest island that broke the sea line might be a place of most unearthly wonders.

That gave a spice to life, and it lent some point to exploring. Who would not be willing to rough it a bit, if he believed that he might run into a nest of mermaids with coral flowers in their hair?

So these Frenchmen have brought exploration back to its old status. They have dug up a legend; they are going off to find the sirens, who seem to have eluded mankind ever since Odysseus manfully sailed past them.

If we could have more expeditions like this one, exploration would be worth reading about once again.

BEHIND THE SCENES

IT IS REPORTED THAT STRONG EF- forts are being made by Conservative party tacticians to effect the return of Hon. H. H. Stevens to the cabinet at Ottawa. But in the light of the flare-up between the former minister and the Secretary of State recently, it would appear that the gap between Mr. Stevens and the government remains as wide as ever, and the cost of bridging it would be so large as to make the job impracticable.

Mr. Stevens' recapitulation of the circumstances in which he retired from the cabinet showed that he was still smarting under the castigation he received from the Prime Minister over the pamphlet incident, and the applause he drew from Conservative members in the House suggests that he has a considerable following in his party.

It is hard to see how the former minister can re-join the ministry under Mr. Bennett's leadership without swallowing himself, while there are certain members of the ministry for whom he has no use, and who have no use for him. If, as the price of his return to the fold, he demanded the head of the Secretary of State, for example, not to speak of three or four others, it is hardly likely that Mr. Bennett would consent, for if that were done he would have the debarth of the party on his back, and notwithstanding his so-called reform measures, Mr. Bennett will not stray very far from the orthodox Tory line. Election bait is one thing, but the mental outlook and financial and political associations of a life-time are too fundamental in the Prime Minister to be genuinely discarded, even under the stress of a campaign.

All things considered, Mr. Stevens probably will play his political cards closely. And they are good cards, too. With Mr. Bennett's defeat or retirement the erstwhile Minister of Trade and Commerce would become Conservative leader.

Reminiscent of King Canute's effort to roll back the ocean by royal command is Il Duce's effort to reverse the trend of the population curve. Biometric science suggests that something more than loud words and the flapping of Benito's eyebrows are necessary to reverse the expansive days of big families and rapid increase. Possibly Italy's mothers are not as enthusiastic about baby-rattling and marching as Mussolini thinks they should be.

Loose Ends

One deplores the absence of manners—but why should there be any?—The British got a real preference—and we suffer an invasion.

By BRUCE HUTCHISON

MANNERS

THE LADIES' HOME JOURNAL, of which I am an avid reader, when I can't find anything else in doctors' and dentists' offices, publishes a lengthy blurb about the disappearance of manners in our North American civilization. An expert who seems to have studied the subject in great detail, assures The Journal's readers that there are no manners left among us and that our children are growing up to be crude and vulgar young bachelors. The expert can't make out what is wrong with us at all.

This is all probably very true. Probably we are pretty uncouth and outrageous in our habits, but it is not a mere result of carelessness, as the expert in manners seems to think. It is not curable either by the mastery of the subject or by the teaching of stout businessmen to give up their seats in street cars to ladies, or by fining motorists who behave with the customary habits of the jungle on our streets. Our complete lack of manners goes much deeper than mere carelessness, or lack of proper home influence. It springs from something far more fundamental.

It springs from the fact that we have lost our respect for people. We have lost our respect for our own species, for the whole human race. The Victorians believed that men amounted to something. They believed that men were angels, temporarily misplaced. Consequently, they treated one another with deference. One naturally offers one's seat to an angel. One hesitates to touch one's hand to a fellow who has just descended from on high and may descend again at any moment. One doesn't tell a naughty story, even if one is a modern flapper, to some lady who may be wearing wings and sandals next week.

It was the Victorians who gave us manners because manners were the outward and visible sign of an inward and spiritual respect for the human being as something entirely respectable. But let the Victorians rest in peace, for there are any left, apart from the inhabitants of this city, that it was they also who gave us the seeds of our present disrespect. It was their Darwin, who first announced that man wasn't an angel but an ape, that changed the whole current of thought and history. Your current outlook on life and, consequently, your current lack of manners, from the day when "The Origin of the Species" was published.

Once men got the notion that they were only apes, three generations removed from the jungle, there wasn't much left to respect. There didn't seem to be any need for treating such animals with any particular deference. The human race hasn't figured all these things out, but that is the intricate instinct behind the attitude of the present generation, and the rising generation is worse. Until you can re-establish the dignity of the human species, don't expect it to have any manners. Apes ape like that.

BRITISH PREFERENCE

WHILE PATRIOTS are working themselves into a laudable passion these days over the appointment of another Englishman as Governor-General of Canada, a much more practical preference for Englishmen over Canadians is going apparently unnoticed. Whenever some fellow like Mr. Hepburn or Mr. McGeer starts to monkey with bond contracts, the immediate cry is that we shall ruin our credit in London. No one seems to worry much about our credit in Canada.

In British Columbia we have even gone so far as to exclude our English borrowings from our refunding legislation. This means that we propose to ask our Canadian and American bondholders to take a cut in interest, but the English bondholders, being of superior clay, will be paid as agreed in the first place—the most amazing and cold-blooded piece of discrimination one has ever heard of, and yet it didn't cause a ripple of objection in a province which is greatly angered because our new Governor-General is English.

It is necessary to refund, no doubt, and interest rates will have to come down. But why make a preferred class of Englishmen, Americans, Abyssinians or anyone else? I'll tell you why. We hope to borrow some more money from Englishmen later on, and we have got to keep them in a friendly humor or they won't invest here. We can afford to treat Canadians more roughly because, poor fools, they can't help themselves. And anyway, their attention can always be diverted by such non-essentials as the appointment of an English Governor.

INVASION

IN A MOMENT of weakness the other day I protected my own vegetable garden and my own seed supply from violent assault by giving a lot of old seed to the demons from next door. I also gave them a space, far off, where they could plant it and do no harm. Besides, I didn't think last year's seeds would germinate at all.

Alas, their skill as gardeners far exceeded my estimate. They dug and hoed and raked with vigor. They scattered seed in all directions, with-out regard to variety or geography. In the last few days the demons' garden has come up. It has come up with a rich profusion while my carefully-planned rows, laid out with geometrical precision and measured to the inch, have yet to show a single sprout of green.

You should see the demons' garden. The rows lead off at all angles and curve and cross each other in every direction. There are carrots and peas and turnips and cabbages all mixed together in a glorious confusion. Some of the rows lead off to the far horizon and I discover as they continue to sprout that they are not confined to the bounds of the wilderness, as I had intended, but criss-cross all over my geometrical garden as well.

But that is not the worst of it. The demons have been at work in secret and I never know when I go down to the vegetable patch, what I may find springing up among my own rows. I realize that what my radishes, yet unborn, are going to be strangled by the upward surge of parsnips. Cabbages are leaping joyously over my onions. Some vulgar beans have roughly invaded the refined precincts of my new carrot patch. I hardly dare go down there now, for I never know what stranger may be lurking in the garden of my property.

(From The Times, April 22)—The body of Samuel L. Clemens, known to the world as Mark Twain, was found in the upper room of his villa at Stormfield, here today awaiting transfer to its last resting place at Elmira, N.Y., having been put forward at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon, and never regained consciousness, dying at 8:30 o'clock from an aneurysm of the heart, and a man of letters, of grief and acute agony of body.

For the first time since Mayor Massey assumed the reins of office for this term, the streets committee, at the meeting to be held to-night, will consist of the whole council, and not only a portion of the members, as previously.

The Victoria Day celebrations committee met at the City Hall last night and heard from the sub-committees. George Jay occupied the chair. A sum of $5,500 will be required to carry out the programme put forward and of this sum, $2,500 is now in the hands of the committee. The balance, the committee on finance expects to collect in good time, and is making an energetic canvas of the public for the purpose of making up the small balance.

The Empress Athletic Club last night elected officers for the cricket club which will take the field this summer. The captain of last year, T. Bywell, and vice-captain, J. A number of complaints have come from Shawanigan Lake in regard to people stinking with salmon roe in the Shewanigan stream. The police have been notified of the illegal proceedings and it is claimed that guilty parties are being carefully watched.

THE OLD-TIME CLIP
One time there was a boy who had a velvet on his head.
"It sounds like a bottle brush," his father often said.
"It sounds like a bottle brush," his mother so, that father used to say.
But still, in spite of all she did, it could not be changed.
Until the summer days returned and it was time to play he'd go and have it clipped away.
The barber ran the clippers round that little fellow's head.
"It'll be good for weeks and weeks and weeks," he said.
The velvet vanished from his crown, the forehead from his brow.
It's sad to see a boy so wholly hairless now.
The neighbors used to laugh at him, and oftentimes they said:
"He looks as though his father scratches himself on his head."
I wish I had a picture of that funny little lad.
Whose head was like a bottle brush, as he used to be.
His hair is still curly, but he merely has it clipped.
Have his topknot clipped.
Yet I would like to see him as one time and then his neighbors, just to hear them laugh at me.

THE RHYMING OPTIMIST

By ALICE MICHAELS

REMEMBERED WINGS
Love is so frail,
So short its day,
I wonder at
The price we pay
For this bright love
Which bravely shines.
I wonder if
The heart divine
Has any love's wings
Will flutter on,
Like any moth's
That leaves its dawn?
I wonder if
We ever hear
Love's passing, while
Love yet is near.
But still these frail
Remembered wings
Are dearest of
All earthly things!

(From The Times, April 22)—The body of Samuel L. Clemens, known to the world as Mark Twain, was found in the upper room of his villa at Stormfield, here today awaiting transfer to its last resting place at Elmira, N.Y., having been put forward at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon, and never regained consciousness, dying at 8:30 o'clock from an aneurysm of the heart, and a man of letters, of grief and acute agony of body.

For the first time since Mayor Massey assumed the reins of office for this term, the streets committee, at the meeting to be held to-night, will consist of the whole council, and not only a portion of the members, as previously.

The Victoria Day celebrations committee met at the City Hall last night and heard from the sub-committees. George Jay occupied the chair. A sum of $5,500 will be required to carry out the programme put forward and of this sum, $2,500 is now in the hands of the committee. The balance, the committee on finance expects to collect in good time, and is making an energetic canvas of the public for the purpose of making up the small balance.

The Empress Athletic Club last night elected officers for the cricket club which will take the field this summer. The captain of last year, T. Bywell, and vice-captain, J. Winter, were unanimously re-elected. H. Hardy, P. Fox and P. Massey were appointed a committee to look after the affairs of the cricket club.

A number of complaints have come from Shawanigan Lake in regard to people stinking with salmon roe in the Shewanigan stream. The police have been notified of the illegal proceedings and it is claimed that guilty parties are being carefully watched.

SAYS HOUSING PLAN ASSURED

Victoria Member Says Details to Be Worked Out; $200,000,000 Suggested

Assurance that a federally-sponsored housing programme only awaits working out of details was given by D. F. Plunkett, M.P. for Victoria, on his return to the city for the Easter recess.

Mr. Plunkett, who was a member of the special housing committee of the House of Commons, said a $200,000,000 programme had been suggested but no fixed amount had been mooted in recommendations as this would depend upon funds available and the demands of the public.

The plan was for the federal authority to work in conjunction with provinces, municipalities, loan societies and mortgage corporations. It would put up a definite percentage of the necessary funds and other agencies would put up the rest, on loan to the house builders. Advances would be made to the provincial governments at not more than 4 per cent under the scheme.

Mr. Plunkett said the housing programme would serve a big purpose in stimulating the building trades which have suffered the worst in the depression.

NATURE PRODUCES A ROOF

Did nature produce the roof over your house and household? A roof that holds to itself a special charm... a natural beauty... a roof that defies the elements for decades... thoroughly and at economical cost... a roof of British Columbia Red Cedar, of shingle or shake. Here indeed is a roof possessing all the weather combating essentials, even to protective oils... a bounteous forest product of British Columbia... for thousands of years the sole building and utility material of the Indians of the Pacific Northwest. Lodges and Totems, hundreds of years old, still stand today as romantic proof that British Columbia Red Cedar is the wood everlasting. By all means roof and re-roof with nature's time defying product of beauty and durability... the shingle or shake of British Columbia Red Cedar.

EVERY ONE THOUSAND FEET OF CEDAR LOGS PROVIDES ONE DAY OF EMPLOYMENT...

The total stand of Cedar in British Columbia is approximately 52 billion feet. The annual cut of Cedar in British Columbia's forests could probably be increased, with safety, to three times the present volume without impoverishing forest capital. Here indeed is a great potential source of employment dependent upon the market consumption and extended uses for British Columbia Cedar—the native wood of a hundred uses.

THE PRIZED WOOD OF THE NATIVE INDIANS...

For many centuries... reaching far back into antiquity, the Cedar tree from its roots to its very tip has been cherished and greatly prized by the native Indians of the Coast of British Columbia. The present day Cedar Shingle has its origin in the large thick shake-like slats used by the Indians for roofing purposes. All Totem Poles were carved from solid cedar as were the fine and speedy sea-going war canoes of the raiding and warring Coast Indians, who but fifty years or more ago, constantly swooped down upon the less aggressive tribes, to pillage for plunder and slaves.

Washington Kills Dog Race Betting

Olympia, Wash., April 22.—Wagering on dog races was put on the state's list of forbidden sports by Governor Charles D. McNelly and Attorney General G. W. Henshaw.

The opinion, rendering the death knell for attempts to open dog racing plants in Seattle and Vancouver, Wash., with "book" or pari-mutuel betting as the chief attraction, was requested by the governor after he had received complaints that plans were being laid for the operation of dog tracks in the two cities this summer.

While dog races can be operated as races, any attempt to permit wagering will be promptly prohibited, Governor McNelly indicated.

King Saxon Wins Jamaica Feature

New York, April 22.—King Saxon, 8 to 5 choice from C. E. Knobel, won the Jamaica Handicap at the Metropolitan racing season opened with 15,000 fans packing the Jamaica track Saturday. Mrs. John Hay Whitney's Singing Wood was three lengths best in second place, followed by James H. Brown's Only One.

With Col. Bailey in the saddle, King Saxon, winner of seven of his six previous starts, rolled off the six furlongs in 1:10 2-3 to enter the stretch and set by a nose in 1935 by three-fifths of a second. The victory netted the four-year-old colt's owner $2,500.

Mayor Opens Archery Range

Large Attendance at Ceremony Saturday at Lake Hill; Competitions Held

A large crowd attended the opening of the Victoria archery range at Lake Hill on Saturday. Mayor David Leeming officially opened the range at 5 o'clock.

After which he presented a very fine silver trophy to R. E. White, who thanked the mayor on behalf of the members of the Victoria Archery Society.

An exhibition round by the archers followed the opening.

In a Columbia competition, twenty-four arrows at thirty, forty and fifty yards, the scores were as follows:

Team 1 scored 108 points. S. S. Gitting, Lawrence Wherry and Kenneth Field.

Team 2 scored 164 points. H. P. Shadr, C. E. Knobel, Edward Clark.

Team 3 scored 132 points. R. E. McClure, T. Wherry and Mr. Hepburn.

The ladies team consisted of Miss Betty Shadr, Miss Mona Bjornstet and Miss Hepburn.

With a score of fifty-four points Miss Betty Shadr was a prize for the best score made by a lady competitor. The society wishes to extend its cordial thanks to R. D. Young, one of the club's honorary members, who so ably presented the prize.

After the competition members of the archery society and their guests enjoyed afternoon tea served by Miss Pauline Booles, lady patroness and Mrs. C. H. Clarke.

At the conclusion of the afternoon tea President Shadr presented the membership card to those who were present.

This closed the programme for the day, after which the archers met for a social gathering of the afternoon in practice shooting.

Another competition sponsored early in May, but the range is open at all times to members of the society.

NANAIMO IN DRAWN MATCH

Up-island Soccer Eleven Plays 1 to 1 Tie With Vancouver St. Andrews

Vancouver, April 22.—Nanaimo City and St. Andrews played to a 1 to 1 draw in Saturday's Inter-city Soccer League fixture here, putting the Islanders into a tie with Rangers for first place in the league standings.

The ground was greasy from overnight rain and the ball was hard to handle. The Saints tried to play a close game, but St. Andrews kept the ball moving, keeping the Scots on the run.

St. Andrews started play with only nine men and went through most of the game with only ten, but despite this McLaren was kept busy in the Nanaimo goal for most of the first half.

Shortly after the start McNeil drove a long shot at the Nanaimo goal, but McLaren managed to tie it over the bar. Then play went to the other end of the field and Watson missed the Saints' goal by inches.

McLaren pushed aside a shot from White and while still on the ground he saved a shot from Manson.

Five minutes later St. Andrews went into the lead when Krall shot into the Scots' net with Rabbit helping to save.

Shortly after resuming, McLaren "nursed" his leg in a collision with Stephen, but continued in goal for the Islanders.

Nanaimo played a defensive game through the first half and the tying goal came just before time, Roo's flicking in a drive from Stephen.

Cup Soccer Ends In Overtime Draw

Esquimalt Put on Great Rally to Overcome Three-goal Deficit and Tie Saanich Thistles 3 to 3 in Peden Cup Play; Victoria West Second Division Team Wins

After setting up a three-goal lead in the first half, Esquimalt's play as they ran through a lanky Saanich defense, Saanich goalkeepers took things no easy for the rest of the encounter they finished in a three-all overtime deadlock with the Dockers in the first division soccer fixture at the Athletic Park on Saturday.

As a result a replay will be necessary to decide which team goes into the Peden Cup final.

The Saanich boys were all over the Dockers in the first half and should have scored more than their three goals on the play.

With their outstanding lead, they slacked off and failed to hit their stride when they needed to play through the extra sessions without any further tally.

SECOND HALF RALLY
Esquimalt, playing better football in the second half, broke into the scoring column about twenty-five minutes after the interval when Mike Wagland booted in a header from Scotty Stewart. Stewart scored in an open goal twelve minutes later and Mall got home the equalizer just before time when Chalmers went out to clear Boyd's shot.

Both squads passed up golden opportunities. West Morgan broke through on a nice combination play five minutes after the opening of the game to rifle in a shot DeCosta had no chance to save as the Thistles took the lead.

A few minutes later, Price, playing out of position, took a pass to rap home the second tally.

FINAL SAANICH GOAL
About twenty minutes from the start, Johnny Campbell took a short close in pass from Morgan and booted the ball into the net for the third and last Saanich tally.

A second attempt to dominate the field, but failed. The 2-2 tie on two attempts. Spiller saved from Wagland when Chalmers was caught out of position and Leggett cleared a lovely life from Boyd as the Dockers returned. Wagland skinned the bar just before the interval.

DeCosta saved two nice shots as Saanich returned on the attack following the rest period and Boyd stated over the bar after a maul in front of the Saanich net.

Brown got in a pretty shot on DeCosta but the Esquimalt goalie was safe.

John Watt was wide on a good attempt and Gibbons skinned the bar at the other end. Politano's close-in shot at the other end.

Twenty-five minutes from time, Scotty Stewart headed to Wagland close in and the Esquimalt left wing booted the ball home for the Dockers' first counter.

Esquimalt was beginning to press. The team forced two corners but the second was cleared. Mall shot at the goal on a Saanich attack and Chalmers stopped Wagland's close-in shot at the other end.

Twelve minutes after Wagland's goal, Mall sent in a lovely cross from the wing. Chalmers left his goal in an effort to clear and Stewart tapped the ball in as it came to him to make the count 3 to 2 for Saanich.

EQUALIZER
Three minutes later Mall picked the corner of the net for a shot that beat the keeper. Chalmers was out of the goal, after clearing Boyd's attempt.

Mall shot for the top corner again as the period closed, but Chalmers saved.

The Dockers missed several attempts as they hounded the Thistles in their own ground for the first eight minutes over-time play. Both teams popped up their attacks, but Saanich could not seem to get going.

The Thistles showed more life in the second overtime period, but neither team was able to score. Ralph Alcock refereed and the teams lined up as follows:

Esquimalt—DeCosta, Joe Watt, McCosker, McKay, Boyd, Barnwell, Gweeney, John Watt, Scotty Stewart, Mall and Wagland.

Thistles—Chalmers, Leggett, Harper, Williams, P. Gibbons, Spiller, Vagner, Price, Campbell, Morgan, Brown and Politano.

LACROSSE BOYS ARE TIED DOWN

Must Obey Association If They Sign Up in Ontario, Group Decides

Canadian Press
Toronto, April 22.—Fred Wagborne, Toronto, was re-elected for a third term as president of the Ontario Amateur Lacrosse Association at the annual meeting. Gene Dupp, Toronto, was returned as secretary.

To prevent a recurrence of last year's trouble when Ottawa defied the Canadian Association's edict and played after the championship games, a rule was passed that all players signing certificates do so on the understanding that they come under the jurisdiction of the C.A.A. for one year ending with the annual meeting.

Calgary, April 22 (Canadian Press).—H. H. Gilchrist of Calgary was elected president of the Alberta Lacrosse Association at the annual meeting here. It was decided the senior championship must be decided before September 11.

Minor Fleming, Medicine Hat, was named secretary-treasurer, and Dr. J. D. Morrison, Red Deer, vice-president.

Glenn Cunningham Beaten By Dawson

Lewiston, Kansas, April 22.—Glenn Cunningham yielded to the finishing "kick" of his usually consistent victim, Glen Dawson of Stillwater, Okla., here yesterday, in the greatest upset of the thirteenth annual Kansas relay carnival.

Sanquety Saturday night in Kansas City and recovering from intestinal influenza that almost cancelled his appearance, before a crowd of home-state folks officially estimated between 10,000 and 15,000, Cunningham suffered his first loss this year after ten straight victories at various distances.

Dawson's home stretch triumph was timed at 4:17.4, far slower than Cunningham's own world record of 4:06.2.

Percy Page's Girls Just Last to Nose Out Windsor-Walkerville Alumnae 34 to 30 in First Game For Canadian Women's Basketball Championship

Canadian Press
Windsor, Ont., April 22.—Percy Page's girls lost to the Alumnae in a desperate last-quarter drive by Alumnae, the Windsor-Walkerville Alumnae, 34 to 30, here Saturday night in the first game of a best three-of-five series for the Canadian women's basketball championship. The second game will be played to-night.

A hot first-half display by Alumnae, coupled with a splendid individual performance by "Babe" Belanger, netted Edmonton "forward," was the main reason for the Windsor team's defeat.

Obviously nervous as the game started, Alumnae, however, managed to stay almost even with the Grads throughout the first quarter, which ended 8 to 8 in favor of Edmonton. Willie Ryttersch scored the first basket of the game for Alumnae.

"Babe" Belanger tied it up, and then two foul shots by Rod MacDonald put the westerners in the lead. Alumnae fought back to even terms on an angle shot by Isabel Loring, then snatched the lead for the second and last time on a fine pivot basket by the same player.

The Grads again took the lead before the period ended on a basket and a pair of foul shots by Rod MacDonald.

In the second quarter Grads hit their stride, and left the home side far in the rear. The fast breaking and smooth passing of the visitors was a treat to watch in this session, as they tore gaping holes in the Alumnae defense.

Alumnae dangled her border team with her speed, while her running mate, Margaret McDermott and Rod MacDonald, turned in smart floor games. With less than three minutes left to play in the first half, the Grads had increased their margin to thirteen points, and appeared well on their way to turning the game into a rout.

The last-minute scoring flurry by the hosts netted five points. Gordie Fuller's charges gave once momentum of what was to be a close play resumed in the third quarter. Alumnae shook off their early-game nervousness and settled down to play fine basketball. Although unable to make any inroads in the big Edmonton lead they held their own in this quarter. The period ended with Edmonton leading 21 to 23 and the Windsor team minus the services of one of its regular guards, Jennie Golab, who had been waved off for four personal fouls just after the second half got under way. She was replaced by Eliza Cornwall.

GREAT RALLY

In a thrill-packed final game, the stock of the Alumnae soared to a new high. They opened up with a long-range attack which, with four minutes to go, carried them to within two points of knocking the count. Then "Bill" Churchill, Alumnae center, fouled Rod MacDonald, and the Windsor Grads potted the awarded team to put her team three points ahead. A minute later Doris Reale, Edmonton's star guard, fouled Willie Ryttersch.

Miss Ryttersch sank the penalty shot, and once again the Alumnae was within two points of tying the score.

There was a minute and a half to play and the spectators were wild with excitement as they witnessed a defeat for the Grads—something no Canadian team and alumnae side had done since Toronto Lakeside turned the trick in a Dominion championship test back in 1928.

Instead of Alumnae getting the basket which would have knotted the count, Margaret MacBarny, veteran of more caps battles than any other player in Saturday's game, whipped in a beautiful angle shot. That basket gave the Grads a four-point edge, and the ball had hardly been put in play again when the final whistle sounded.

EDDIE CANTOR AT PLAYHOUSE

Famous Comedian Has Leading Role With Splendid Cast in "Kid Millions"

Eddie Cantor in "Kid Millions," the wide-eyed comedian's latest musical extravaganza for Samuel Goldwyn, began a three-day run at the Playhouse Theatre today, with Ann Southern, Ethel Merman, Bloch and Sully, and this season's collection of Goldwyn Girls, adding and abetting the star in his frantic frolics along the Nile in search of buried treasure.

Of the sixty gaudy beauties who comprise this year's crop of Goldwyn Girls who prance in and out of the picture in the lavish song and dance ensembles, staged by Seymour Felix, thirty-one had never before appeared in a film. Among them was a girl who had been studying to be a school teacher; the daughter of Cantor's dentist; the mother of a nine-year-old son; a doctor; and the possessor of the most sought-after face for photographic modeling in New York.

Walter Donaldson and Gus Kahn, contributed the song hits, which include "Oh, My Toes," "When My Ship Comes In," "An Ear Full of Music," and "Your Head On My Shoulder," while Vivian Martin's "Misty" is revived in an old-fashioned minstrel number done in a new-fashioned way.

"Dames" Opens At Columbia

"Dames," the snappy musical and dancing extravaganza featuring Ruby Keeler, Joan Blondell, Dick Powell and Guy Kibbee, opened to-day at the Columbia Theatre for a three-day engagement.

The music writers scored a fine success in this picture with "Dames," "Girl at the Ironing Board," "Try to See It My Way," "I Only Have Eyes for You," "When You Were a Smile on Your Mother's Lips," "Hugh Herbert with his droll humor also scored in the picture, in fact his dialogue was so funny that the audience had to be taken five times on account of players in the audience breaking out with laughter in the sound recording studio.

The added feature is the mystery thriller "Shock."

"1935 Scandals" Here Tomorrow

"George White's 1935 Scandals" will open to-morrow at the Dominion Theatre.

Here is the last triumphant word in screen entertainment, a splendid sunburst of comedy and music that sustains the reputation of George White as prince of showmen.

It more than surpasses expectations, and is more brilliant than its "Scandals" sister of last year.

The second annual edition, sponsored by Fox Films, has everything. Here are ten top-rung stars: Alice Faye, James Dunn, Red Sparks, Lyda Roberti, Cliff Edwards, Arline Judge, Eleanor Powell, Emma Dunn, Benny Rubin and George White, who conceived, produced and directed the entire show.

Brilliantly kaleidoscopic in their 1,000 eye-catching costumes designed by Charles LeMaire (he designs for Paris, besides for Broadway's shows) are the 300 glamorous dancing beauties.

CAPITOL THEATRE

Shirley Temple has two distinctions. She rose to stardom in less than six months. And she is Hollywood's only star who has never read a book. Her non-professional looks are occupied with alphabet blocks.

The screen's child wonder is co-starring with Lionel Barrymore in Fox Film's "The Little Colonel," which is now being shown at the Capitol Theatre.

Wall St. Stocks In Heavy Trading Maintain Upswing

New York, April 22.—The stock market's forward run was largely unopposed today, with a heavy volume of trading. There was considerable profit-taking among recent sharp gainers. The close was fairly firm and the approximate turnover of 1,400,000 shares was the largest in more than two months.

The brokerage contingent was cheered by the action of the utility section, with money at 1/4 of 1 per cent. Traders and investors were still said to be hunting for dividend payers. Some immediate profits, however, were not ignored although rebuying was looked for on any technical setback.

Realizing in corn stemmed the advance in grain and cotton was speculative. A moderate loss before receiving mild support. Secondary rail bonds improved. Foreign exchange rates were only nominal owing to the fact that European markets were closed.

Shares of American Telephone, Consolidated Gas, Public Service of New Jersey and a number of others got up a point or so to new highs for the year. The market was generally around a point improved were: Columbia Gas, Western Union, American Waterworks, American Agricultural Chemical, Briggs, Commercial Investment Trust, Plymouth Oil, Loe's, McCutcheon Chemical, Phillips Morris, International Business Machines and Westinghouse. Bells, stocks, metals and most of the old milled about in a rather restricted range.

Among Canadian shares, Dome, McIntyre and International Nickel maintained a steady tone. On the curb, Lake Shore and Hiram Walker both sold a shade lower. Dominion government was down slightly. Canadian funds held unchanged at 99-1/2 cents.

Men Are Arrested With Bogus Bills

Five Held in Toronto As Counterfeit U.S. $10 Bank Notes Traced

Canadian Press
Toronto, April 22.—Confession of fifty-eight counterfeit United States $10 banknotes followed the arrest of five men here Saturday, and police today were checking the possibility that the prisoners were associated with a gang whose members had been arrested in New York last week.

Those in custody and charged with passing a counterfeit United States $10 bill were: Omer Carriere, former light-heavyweight prizefighter, twenty-five years old; Dominick Belacoste, thirty-seven; and Sam Sorbara, twenty-seven; of Georgian Bay; and Dominick Sorbara, twenty-three, of Hamilton, Ont.

The suspicions of a twenty-year-old malefactor in a bakery led to the arrest of the five. When a man came in with a brand new United States $10 bill and ordered 30 cents worth of macaroni, Miss Annie Gary felt dubious. She looked out the window and noted the license number of the auto drove away with the customer, the change and the macaroni.

She then telephoned the police, supplying the auto license number. The auto and the five men were picked up in a west end police division.

NEW LIBRARY PLANS URGED

D.C. Association Near Suggestion Federal Government Give Aid

Canadian Press
Ottawa, April 22.—Need for the Canadian Government to assume direct responsibility for a program of library development throughout Canada was stressed today at the opening session of the D.C. Association of Librarians conference here.

In the absence of Hon. O. M. Weir, Minister of Education, Dr. Kaye Lamb of Victoria, archivist and provincial librarian, extended greetings to the visiting librarians. Miss J. C. Stockert, president of the association, and Dr. Lamb, president of the association, presided.

A report on libraries and federal aid in Canada, prepared by Dr. Lamb, Mr. Ridington and E. S. Robinson, was presented by the association. This report, which urged that the federal government of public works, "whether designed to relieve unemployment or not, should include libraries."

"Details of the first needs could be easily provided when it was intimated that the government was interested," stated the report. "Large areas of need, where the lack of libraries of any sort, while other areas need new and greatly expanded facilities."

FRANCE IS FOR UNITED FRONT

Rejects Direct Negotiations With Hitler; Stands By Britain and Italy

Associated Press
Paris, April 22.—France rejected all suggestions today of entering into direct negotiations with Reichstag, and instead urged a united front with Britain and Italy.

High authorities said the government was ignoring an obvious attempt to bring about separate German conversations with Great Britain, France and Italy. They indicated they considered the effort a German move to break up the united front of the three powers.

"The three powers will continue to work together," one official source said.

The Nationalist Press strongly criticized the recent visit to Berlin of Georges Scapini, the blind deputy, who conferred with German veterans in an effort to bring the two countries together. The unfavorable comment said such negotiations held grave danger for France and asserted the French veterans were being used as catalysts.

FRANCE-RUSSIAN PACT

Paris newspaper, meanwhile, evinced little interest in reports of a German-Polish military alliance published in The Provincial Press. The report, published in the newspaper Saint Public of Lyons, said the treaty was signed February 22, 1934, and pledged the two governments to "pool their military, economic and financial resources."

The German Foreign Office in Berlin denied the report with the observation that it had been "exploited so many times that we ought not to have to deny it again."

SPENCER GROUP TAKES CONGRESS

Acquires Another Mine in Bridge River, Beating Out Premier For Control

Vancouver, April 22.—Col. Victor Spencer and David Sloan of Vancouver and Ben Smith of New York and their associates have acquired control of the Bridge River, B.C., gold mine and will finance the future development of the company. The Bridge River mine is in the Bridge River, about nine miles north from Plover, in which the Spencer-Sloan-Smith syndicate has been heavily invested. Congress has a large quantity of ore before recent development work, which culminated a few days ago in getting the ore at a depth of 100 feet. This enormously increased the possibilities of the Congress property and brought the American Mining and Smelting Company, through its subsidiary, Premier Gold Mines, nibbling for control of the mine. Spencer and Sloan are new out of the picture, however, as the Spencer-Sloan-Smith group has made a better offer.

Col. Spencer said his engineers would be on the property within a few days and that the syndicate was interested in developing the mine. It is understood that in terms of the new deal Spencer-Sloan-Smith and associates will obtain fifteen claims of Congress, enclosing the five most northerly claims and the fraction to the south. It will also have a 41 per cent interest in the fifteen claims involved in the new deal, the financing syndicate holding the remaining 59 per cent.

The optioning group are to develop and equip the property for production commensurate with its ore position. A period of two years is given for completion of the option, but should a longer time be required for construction of a large mill, the agreement is flexible to that end. The Spencer-Sloan-Smith group is to furnish all money required for development and plant. They are to be compensated for all expenditures on the property for a return out of first earnings, at 5 per cent interest, and at the same time Congress Gold Mines Limited is to receive 41 per cent of first earnings until it has been paid $100,000 and 5 per cent interest. Thereafter earnings that may be distributed will be in the same proportion.

Should the option be dropped at any time, the property and all improvements would revert to Congress Gold Mines Limited, with no compensation to Messrs. Spencer, Sloan and associates.

DOLLAR GAINS ON EXCHANGE

Canadian Press
New York, April 22.—Fluctuations were insignificant on the foreign exchange market here today. The Canadian dollar was higher, at 99-1/2 cents, both were unchanged. The Canadian dollar firmed 1/2 to a discount of 1/4 per cent.

NEW ANGLE IN CANCER FIGHT

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLIFE
Associated Press Science Editor
New York, April 22.—The fastest cancer-producing substance ever known, made artificially at the Harvard Medical School in a search for the cause of cancer, was described by the American Chemical Society here today.

The cancer-making material is a hydrocarbon, a combination of hydrogen and carbon called methylchloranthrene.

This substance has been previously made from acids of the bile of human beings and of animals, and from other sources. When made in that manner it also produced cancer.

But the artificially made chemical, although it appears to be exactly like the natural one, is more deadly in its action.

The progress report today was the rapid effect of the artificial material, which was unexpected and may assist in finding the clue to the cause of cancer.

Aviatix May Make Long Hop

Mrs. Amelia Earhart Putnam May Try Mexico City-New York Flight

Associated Press
Mexico City, April 22.—George Palmer Putnam said today he does not mind waiting for his famous flying wife, Amelia Earhart, to complete her long attempt to set a new air voyage record.

Unlimited faith in her ability combined with a belief that it is worth while to wait, makes it fairly easy for him, he said, although there have been times when he has been considerably worried.

Mrs. Earhart said today that although her plans for the future were indefinite, she might attempt a non-stop flight to New York within the next few days.

Putnam was deeply concerned Saturday when word was received that his wife had made a forced landing at Mojave, Calif., while on route here from Burbank, Calif.

"She did a smart thing in sitting down," Putnam said. "This is an easy country in which to get lost, and although we regret that she did not make the flight non-stop, I am sure it was for the best."

The former publisher told of misinterpretation of a remark he made in Honolulu when Mrs. Earhart was taking off on her successful solo flight to Oakland, California.

"Watching her slide down the runway with a heavy load and the chances fifty-fifty against her getting off," Putnam said, "I let slip the remark I've rather had a baby."

"What I meant was that I'd rather go through the trouble of having a baby than the anxiety of watching the wobbling plane and wondering if it would take off. But the reporters thought I'd said that I would prefer that Mrs. Earhart stay at home and have a baby. I haven't finished yet with explaining."

Winnipeg Futures Little Changed In Restricted Trading

BOND MARKET IS IMPROVED

Canadian Press
Winnipeg, April 22.—Wheat prices were quietly irregular in movement on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange today, but generally showing a tendency of European markets. Values closed unchanged to 1/2 higher, May at 90 1/2 and July 90 1/2.

Prices advanced early in the day, and for most of the afternoon, but closed at levels about unchanged from Saturday's close.

Domestic foreign demand for Canadian wheat is showing a tendency of European markets after an extended Easter holiday, restricted trading.

Chicago was up fractionally most of the day, due to the continued drought in the United States south-west. Buenos Aires was 1/2 to 1/2 higher.

World shipments of wheat last week, 10,750,000 bushels, were about 1,000,000 bushels more than the previous week's total. The week ending April 19, 1935, was 10,750,000 bushels, an increase of 235,000 bushels.

Cash and coarse grains were quiet.

Domestic foreign demand for Canadian wheat is showing a tendency of European markets after an extended Easter holiday, restricted trading.

Chicago was up fractionally most of the day, due to the continued drought in the United States south-west. Buenos Aires was 1/2 to 1/2 higher.

World shipments of wheat last week, 10,750,000 bushels, were about 1,000,000 bushels more than the previous week's total. The week ending April 19, 1935, was 10,750,000 bushels, an increase of 235,000 bushels.

Cash and coarse grains were quiet.

THE KING WILL COME

tion of the world how to solve its problems. Our times cry out for such a divine world king. The whole earth stews in its own corruption. Leadership everywhere has failed. Darkness covers the earth.

That king will come! By a word here, by a word there, he will calm the nations, as a mother calms her child. The words of his mouth will be glittering words to slay evils; they will be healing ointments to save the poor and distressed. Under his divine leadership the nations will march on, strong and confident, to a higher destiny than they have ever known. "In his days shall the righteous flourish, and abundance of peace so long as the moon endureth."

CORRECTION

To the Editor:—In order to correct one or two erroneous reports during this May Queen contest may I say Miss Patricia Petherbridge, who is being sponsored by the O.R.C. Distributors Limited, is not and never has been an employee of this company.

A little service I can be as Princess Pat's manager in this interesting contest assures me of much pleasure. Only after considerable persuasion by the queen committee did the Home Oil become convinced the sponsoring of a May Queen candidate would help to make May 24 celebration a success.

The sponsor together with the charming Princess Pat, including myself, trust the May Queen contest may go on pleasantly and successfully.

SILVER STOCKS:
We have persistently recommended the purchase of Premier and Highland Lams.
LAST YEAR Highland Lams paid 15c a share with silver at 40c (average).
Now silver is selling at 60c, indicating increased dividend for Highland Lams, which we advise as a purchase.
HIGHER PRICES are probable for silver and we favor such stocks as

REPUTATION
To the Editor:—The Province of Ontario has repudiated its pledged word to purchase power from Quebec. There is only one honorable way for a government to modify the terms of its obligations to its creditors: that is by a public declaration of inability to pay, accompanied by definite evidence establishing that inability in the mind of reasonable men. This Ontario has not, and cannot do.
